ARE YOU KIDDING ME?

By Yolandi Cloete
Peering & Interconnect Specialist
This presentation will be about the everyday struggles, mistakes, misunderstandings and just “hit-your-head-on-the-desk” moments.

This presentation includes industry relevant memes and some on-stage discussion on our experiences. I’ve planned the slides in such a way that they are applicable to my typical day as well. We will be touching on cybersecurity, network engineering, software development, etc.

There is not much more to elaborate on, but much to say about each slide! Please join the session.

“I hope this email finds you well”

How the email found me:
I DON'T UNDERSTAND YOU!

YOU MUST BE ON A DIFFERENT VLAN OR SOMETHING!
My email is written, reviewed and ready to be sent

You must be on a different VLAN or something, I don't understand you.
You must be on a different VLAN or something.

I don't understand you.

Type a simple command into the console.

Press up key dozens of times until you find it.
THINGS SAID AND HEARD…

“I’m running out of light…”

“Our link is down, have you made any changes? On our side, we did not make any changes, we only swopped the router…”

“We can’t use our own ASN because we only have a 1G port”

“I have swopped RX/TX on my RJ45…”
You must be on a different VLAN or something

AS IT SAYS IN THE DOCUMENTATION
